

Gallery Activity

Lisette Model, Bars, Singer at Café Metropole, New York, 1945, Gelatin silver print,
Courtesy of Galerie Baudoin Lebon, Paris; Keitelman Gallery, Brussels

Word and Image

Nancy Newhall often wrote poems, articles, or essays that were inspired by many of the photographers in this exhibition. She believed that a photograph could inspire words or vice versa. She even created entire books of photographs and writing that were connected to each other.

Now it's your turn to connect words and images! For each word below, find a photograph in the exhibition that you think matches that word and answer the questions about that photograph. For example, if the word is "song" which photograph makes you think of the word "song"?

Family

What is the name of the photograph? _____

Who is the photographer? _____

Why do you think the word and image are connected? _____

Motion

What is the name of the photograph? _____

Who is the photographer? _____

Why do you think the word and image are connected? _____

Cold

What is the name of the photograph? _____

Who is the photographer? _____

Why do you think the word and image are connected? _____

Play

What is the name of the photograph? _____

Who is the photographer? _____

Why do you think the word and image are connected? _____

Daydream

What is the name of the photograph? _____

Who is the photographer? _____

Why do you think the word and image are connected? _____